THROW ROTTEN EGGS AT AUTO

Police Have Names of Four Boys,
Who Are Believed to be the Offenders.

INVESTIGATION TO FOLLOW

Attack Party From Knightstown
Yesterday Afternoon and Spattered With "Hen Fruit."

The police have the names of four boys ranging in years from fourteen to sixteen, who rotten-egged an automobile party from Knightstown yesterday afternoon and it very likely that prosecution will follow. Although the authorities have not learned definitely it is believed that the machine was being driven by Ezra Seville, a retired farmer of Knightstown and a cousin of Douglas Morris of this city. The machine was occupied by the driver and four women.

The car was being driven past the old Hiner livery barn in East Second street yesterday afternoon, when the "rotten" attack was made. The people in the auto suddenly felt eggs, yellow and white alike, running down their necks and all over their clothes. The occupants of the machine turned to see boys running, but any attempts that they could have made to catch them would have been in vain, due to the fact that the car had to be turned around and the boys could be under cover before that time.

One of the boys was caught and declared that he had no part in the egging. He said that he saw the whole proceeding but that he did not throw any of the eggs. He refused to divulge the names of his comrades for a long time. He absolutely refused to tell, but after a time was convinced that it was the proper thing to do and gave up the secret. The police have the names of the offenders and it is likely that all of the boys will be brought to justice for the act. It is said that grand jury investigation will probably result.

The three women in the back seat suffered the most from the attack. The hat of one of the women and the dresses on the two others was practically ruined by the assault. The eggs splattered all over the car and no one of the occupants escaped without receiving a portion of them. The cushions of the machine were practically ruined and the body of the machine was considerably disfigured. The party stopped at a house near where the trouble occurred and attempted to brush some of the rotten eggs off of their clothes.

HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

Sprockets of Front Wheels of Auto
Broke.

Harvey Steele and a party of four others all of whom reside in Shelbyville, had an auto accident yesterday which might have resulted seriously. The sprocket of one of the front wheels of his Stoddard Dayton broke and he managed to keep the road and then the other sprocket broke, causing the front part of the machine to give down. No one was injured beyond a good "shake-up." The machine was brought to Worth & Bowen's garage for repair.

Frederick Cline and wife have filed suit against Samuel Hooper and wife et al. to quiet title. The suit is a change of venue from the Marion county Superior court.

MOSQUITO BITES POISON

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur
John is Seriously Ill.

Poisoning from mosquito bites is ascribed by Dr. W. E. Barnum, of Manilla, as the cause of the serious illness of the twelve-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur John, of near Manilla. Dr. Barnum, who is the family physician, has been attending the girl since last Thursday and her condition is regarded as serious. She suffered several times from convulsions and the poison in her system is believed to have caused the illness, as she became swollen greatly a few days ago after being bitten by mosquitoes.

HORSE SCARED AT AUTOMOBILE

Runaway Which Might Have Brought
Serious Results Took Place
Yesterday.

HAD STARTED TO LAUREL

Ice cream cones and hamburger sandwiches "makins and fillins," that were the property of Charlie Perkins were in peril of never being dispensed with at the Laurel street fair, on account of a runaway that took place yesterday. He had started to the Dutch settlement in the hills in a spring wagon carrying his wares, and had gotten as far as the Adams Produce house, when his horse scared at an automobile driven by Frank Powers of Milroy. The horse whirled, and Mr. Perkins was thrown to the ground by the maneuver, but luckily came out unhurt, the horse ran north on Main and turned west on First street, where it was stopped. The only damage done was to bend the rear axle of the vehicle. The driver obtained another wagon and horse and again started for his destination.

TAKES PICTURE; ALSO A TUMBLE

Herman Pettitt is Hurt When He
Topples Off a Cliff Near St.
Paul 12 Feet Below.

USING KODAK AT THE TIME

Herman Pettitt, the clerk at the Pitman store, had a close call for his life near St. Paul Sunday when he took a tumble from a cliff along Flatrock river while trying to photograph some of the interesting scenery in that locality, says the Shelbyville News. Mr. Pettitt was so intent on his kodak that he became careless as to his personal safety and toppled from a fifteen-foot cliff. He was badly sprained and bruised in many places, the most painful injury being to his right wrist. Luck attended the fall as Mr. Pettitt alighted in a comparatively soft place. Two feet from the spot where he alighted the base of the cliff was so rocky that a landing there would probably have meant death or at least much more severe injuries than the ones he sustained. Fred Whissman, of this city, was with Mr. Pettitt at the time of the accident.

MARRIAGE LICENSE.

A marriage license was granted to Carroll Swain Pitts and Janice Marie Haehl today.

EXPRESS CHOICE OF CANDIDATES

The Congregation of First Presbyterian Church Wish Rev. J. B.
Meacham of Ripley, O.

WILL BEGIN IN SEPTEMBER

He is Graduate of Columbia University and Princeton Theological Seminary.

The congregation of the First Presbyterian church of this city through a unanimous vote have asked the Session to extend a call to the Rev. J. B. Meacham, who is now a pastor of a Presbyterian church in Ripley, Ohio. Rev. Meacham has not been voted through by the Session, but it would be a rare occurrence for them to act against the wish of the congregation. Rev. Meacham preached here several weeks ago and at that time he left the impression that he would accept a call from this congregation if it was extended him. The prospective minister is a comparatively young man having only been in the work since 1904. The Rev. Mr. Meacham is a graduate of Columbia University and of Princeton Theological Seminary. His first charge was at Mount Sterling, Ky., a city which at the time that he went there supported two Presbyterian churches, but after two years of service in that city the two churches, united and the senior minister was retained. From Mount Sterling he went to Ripley, where he has held a charge for the last three years. If he makes a change from Ripley to this city it will be altogether a voluntary action. It is planned for Rev. Meacham to begin his work here early in September. He is married and is the father of three young children. The Presbyterian pulpit in this city has been vacant since the resignation of Rev. Cowling several months ago, and much satisfaction is shown by the members in the fact that they will soon be able to have regular worship at their church.

WILL VISIT CITIES OF SIXTH DISTRICT

Chairman Bassett and Congressman
Barnard Are Arranging For Meetings in Every County.

BE HERE AUGUST EIGHTH

Chairman Elmer Bassett, of the Republican central committee of the Sixth Indiana district, and Congressman W. O. Barnard, of the same district, are arranging to visit every county seat in the district soon, at which time they wish to meet all the Republican officials, chairman, committeemen and workers in the party in the different counties and invitations are being sent out now by Mr. Bassett. The situation will be discussed in each of the counties.

Greenfield will be visited on August 8th; New Castle, August 9th; Richmond, August 10th; Liberty, August 11th; Connersville, August 12th; Brookville, August 13th. Another committee will visit Rushville, August 8th; Greensburg, August 9th, and Shelbyville, August 10th, for the same purpose.

Omer B. Green has filed a suit against Thomas Roberts and 177 others to quiet title. One hundred and four acres of land are involved.

DUMPED WHEN BUGGY HITS TREE

Miss Lucile Meredith and Louis
Thatcher Have Exciting Experience in Knightstown.

HORSE FRIGHTENS AT A CAR

Throws Occupants From Rig and Painfully Hurts Them—Collision Seemed Inevitable.

Louis Thatcher is thankful that they grow trees on the principal streets of Knightstown or it is highly probable that he and Miss Lucile Meredith would have been seriously hurt or perhaps killed in a runaway accident in that town yesterday afternoon. They were thrown out of a buggy, when their horse frightened at a traction car and both were bruised and scratched considerably. The horse ran into a tree, breaking loose from the buggy and running several squares before it was caught.

Miss Meredith and Mr. Thatcher in company with Miss Mae McDaniel and Will Bennett drove to Knightstown yesterday afternoon, expecting to take supper there. Thatcher had a fractious horse from the Hiner livery barn which promised to cause trouble early in the afternoon, when it frightened at several automobiles and motorcycles. Arriving in Knightstown, the party started out to drive over the city but their plans were frustrated by the interference of the wild horse.

Mr. Thatcher and Miss Meredith met a traction car on one of the principal streets of Knightstown and their horse became frightened. The animal became unmanageable and dashed as fast as it could run directly toward the car. The motorman attempted to stop his car and it seemed that a collision was inevitable. Just as the horse had almost reached the on-coming car, it succeeded on getting its tail over the lines, which caused it to turn to one side. The frightened animal ran straight up on the sidewalk and into a tree. The impact with the tree threw Miss Meredith several feet on to the cement walk and caused her several painful injuries. Thatcher was thrown out over the dashboard and was dragged several feet by the horse before he loosened his grasp on the lines.

The horse was caught after it ran several blocks. The party experienced some trouble in finding repairs for their broken buggy harness, but were finally successful. They procured a new pair of shafts and new parts for the harness and drove back to this city without further trouble.

NEW GAME LAW.

Book agents may be killed from October 1st to September 1st; spring poets from March 1st to June 1st; scandal mongers, April 1st to February 1st; umbrella borrowers, August 2d to November 1st, and from February 1st to May 1st, and while every man who accepts a paper two years but when the bill is presented says: "I never ordered it," may be killed on sight without reserve or relief from valuation or appraisement laws, and buried face downward without benefits or clergy—Exchange.

STATED CONVOCATIONS.

Rush Chapter No. 24, R. A. M., will have a stated convocation this (Monday) evening. Business of importance. A good attendance is desired.

BREAKS NECK IN FALL

Farmer Near St. Paul is Instantly
Killed in Accident.

Daniel Deck, a farmer living one mile north of St. Paul, was instantly killed Saturday, when he fell from the hay mow in the barn on his farm to a hay wagon below. Mr. Deck had just finished unloading hay and was preparing to climb down out of the mow, when he fell. His neck was broken in the fall.

LOCAL MEN WILL FIGURE IN FAIR

Rush County Horses and Drivers Will Take Part in Ripley County
Fair.

R. J. WILSON TO BE STARTER

The big Ripley county fair will be held in Osgood, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. The prospects for a good fair this year are said to be better than ever and the board is expecting larger crowds than usual. Rush county men and horses will figure largely there this year. R. J. Wilson of this city, who has gained a reputation in the last few years over the county fair circuit, will officiate as starter. A number of local horsemen will have entries on the racing card. It is said that the shows and the free attractions this year are far above the average. Will King secretary of the local fair and Elmer Humes who has charge of the concessions are planning to go to Osgood this week and sign some attraction for the local exhibit.

GRANT PETITIONS TO BUILD ROADS

County Commissioners Have Busy
Session in Their Regular Monthly Meeting Today.

PETITION TO ABANDON ROAD

The county commissioners had a busy session today in their regular monthly meeting. They granted petitions to build three roads in the county and allowed several bills and claims. They had at a late hour this afternoon failed to grant the petition of James A. Brown et al. for a road in Anderson township, against which a remonstrance had been filed. The petitions of M. F. Lovett et al. for a road on the Ripley Posey township line, of William L. Walker et al. for a road in Ripley township and of O. M. Moffett et al. for a road in Posey township were granted. The petition of Thomas B. Henry et al. to abandon a road in Posey township was granted. Viewers in all of the road cases, which were acted on, were appointed with orders to report August 8, as follows, Oliver M. Siler and Thomas Wright for the Lovett road, Charles H. Lyons and Willard Amos for the Walker road and John A. Widau and O. C. Norris for the Moffett road. A. L. Stewart was appointed superintendent over all of the work.

THE WEATHER

Fair tonight and Tuesday. Slightly warmer to night in south portion.

WHEAT SPECIAL IS COMING HERE

Pennsylvania Agent Gets News of Purdue Educational Train Which Will be Run.

LOCAL DATE NOT MADE KNOWN

Special Will be in Rushville and Farmers Will be Interested in the Exhibit.

The special train, which will be sent out under the auspices of Purdue University and known as the "Wheat Improvement Special," will start on Monday, August 22, and will not return until Wednesday, September 7.

J. M. Higgins, local agent of the Pennsylvania Lines, has been advised that the train will come over the Pennsylvania Lines, but the date when it will arrive in this city was not given. Further particulars will be received here within a short time. Much interest has been manifested in this train, which has been contemplated for some time. The authorities of Purdue University as well as the prominent millers throughout the State are of the opinion that such a train will create an interest in wheat improvement, and mean much for the farmer in Indiana. The matter was first discussed at the meeting of the Millers' Association, which was held several months ago. It was the opinion of the millers who were present that the farmers would find such a demonstration profitable as well as interesting.

Several different kinds of wheat will be exhibited in the car and lectures will be given, explaining how the best results can be obtained from each variety. The care and attention necessary to produce good crops will be explained and it will be shown how the grain should be grown to produce the largest yields.

The report shows that a larger acreage is given to wheat each year, and that larger crops of a better quality can be obtained when the growing conditions are thoroughly understood. The instructors who will accompany this special have given this matter especial attention and have endeavored to find out the best way of growing wheat in this section of the state. The train will be sent out at the expense of the University and no charge will be made for any information which might be desired.

The University people are preparing a large amount of advertising matter, which will be distributed among the farmers along the route which the train will take. The schedule for the train will be completed within a short time and it will be announced just which cities will be visited and the length of the stops.

TO ATTEND HOME-COMING.

Congressman Barnard will be one of the speakers at the Andersonville, Rush County, Home Coming, August 10 and 12. Finley Gray has also been invited and will probably attend.

ANOTHER BIG YIELD.

J. W. Stoten of Center township believes that he has the banner yield of the county for this season so far as it had progressed. He threshed seven hundred and fifteen bushels of wheat off of a twenty-five acre field which is an average of 28.6 bushels per acre. Another field of thirteen acres averaged thirty-four bushels to the acre. Mr. Stoten says that the quality of his wheat was the best and weighed up to the standard.

Must Be Race Suicide

When the school bells of the country ring this fall to take the boys away from the gentle pastime of farming, slopping the pigs and commanding the stone boat, and when the same bells ring to tell the girls that they must forswear their housewife duties and prepare for school, there will be four bells silent. Four fewer schools in Bartholomew county this year than last.

"Why is it?" a reporter asked County Superintendent Talkington. "Race suicide," was his laconic reply.

Maybe it is and maybe it is not, but at any rate the attendance at four schools in the county has fallen off to such an extent that these schools will be closed. Some of them really should have been closed last school year, but the trustee kept them running. The law provides that where the enrollment at a school is less than fifteen the trustee may close the school if he sees fit and that if the enrollment is less than twelve he must close the school. However, there is no penalty attached to the mandatory statute and some trustees have acted as they thought best.

The schools to be closed this fall are No. 1 in Rockcreek township; the Newsom school in Flatrock township; the Sprey school and Lockman school in Jackson township.

About nineteen years ago when County Superintendent Talkington began teaching he first wielded the rod at No. 1 in Rockcreek township. The enrollment was about 40 then, and for the coming year it is only 7. No wonder he says race suicide is the cause of the closing of the schools.

The pupils who would have gone to No. 1 had there been school there will go to Burnsville this year instead.

The Newsom school in Flatrock township was formerly a large school, but the enrollment has dropped steadily, and for the coming year it promised to be less than a dozen. The pupils of that school will go to Clifford, and there will probably be an extra teacher employed in the Clifford schools on that account.

There are three schools remaining in Jackson township after the Sprey and Lockman schools are closed, and the pupils of these abandoned buildings will be divided among the three remaining. It is said that one of the schools to be closed in Jackson township this year only has an enrollment of three, and the other an enrollment of but five. Both used to be comparatively large schools.

In some counties in the State the state board of health has issued orders that proceedings under the law will be brought if any of the condemned school buildings are opened and attempts made to use them for school purposes during the coming school year.

County Superintendent Talkington says that none of the school buildings in this county have been condemned by the state board of health, but he intimates that some of them ought to be condemned because of unsanitary conditions. However, nothing will be done about the local unsanitary buildings this year and efforts will be made to get rid of them next.

The footprints of Dyspepsia have been directly traced to the Stomach nerves. When these "inside nerves" fail, indigestion and stomach distress must surely result. For this, druggists everywhere are supplying a prescription known as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. First these tiny inside Stomach, Heart, and Kidney nerves fail. Then gas belching, Heart palpitation, or failing Kidneys follow. Don't drug the Stomach, or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. Strengthen these failing nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative. It is the nerves, not the organs that are calling for help. Within 48 hours after starting the Restorative treatment, you will realize the gain. A test will tell. Sold by Frank E. Wolcott.

WILL ASK FOR THE REVISION OF LAW

Indiana Officials Perplexed Over Jurisdiction.

THE STATE ACCOUNTING LAW

Complaint Has Been Made That on Some Points, Particularly That Relating to Prosecutions Under New Law, Are Not Sufficiently Explicit, and an Effort Will Be Made to Amend the Statute Next Winter.

Indianapolis, Aug. 1.—State officials charged with the operation and enforcement of the state accounting law are practically agreed that criminal charges made by the field examiners in their reports of the administration of township and county offices must be brought by the prosecuting attorney within the jurisdiction where the offense was committed. The opinion has been current that the attorney general, as the agent of the governor, is charged with the duty of bringing criminal suits, but an examination of the accounting law fails to reveal any such power, it is said.

After setting out the nature of the examination to be made of the records of county, township and city officials, Sec. 9 of the state accounting law reads: "If any such examination discloses malfeasance, misfeasance or nonfeasance in office on the part of any officer or employee, an additional copy of such report shall be so made, signed and verified; and it shall be the duty of the examiner to place such report with the governor, and the governor shall transmit the same to the attorney general, and the attorney general shall institute and prosecute such civil proceedings against such delinquent officer, or upon his official bond or both, as will carry into effect the findings resulting from such examination and secure to the proper municipality the recovery of any funds misappropriated. Any such report as is described in this section or copy thereof duly certified by the state examiner shall be taken and received in any and all the courts of this state as evidence of the facts in such reports stated and contained."

State officials concerned with the enforcement of the law were reticent about committing themselves as to the provisions of the statute for criminal prosecutions, but all believed this power rests with the local authorities. The last sentence of the clause relating to prosecutions was pointed out as conferring the power in question on the prosecuting attorney. Whether the prosecuting attorney is compelled to take cognizance of the provision of the statute is regarded as questionable.

That upon the attorney general, as the agent of the governor, devolves the duty of collecting any funds misappropriated and due the municipality in question from any official or former official is accepted as the law.

There has been some complaint that the statute is not clear on some points, and that the operation can be materially benefited by amendments which are expected to be introduced for passage at the next session of the general assembly.

SEEKING SETTLEMENT

Governor Harmon Starts Movement to Adjust Troublesome Strike.

Columbus, O., Aug. 1.—Rioting was checked Sunday with the arrival of two new regiments of the Ohio national guard and the assumption of command by Major General Charles F. Dick. Wholesale arrests of rioters by the soldiers Saturday had a wholesome moral effect. The disorder Sunday consisted of the stoning of cars and the mobbing of a motorman and conductor by a mob of strike sympathizers on Pennsylvania avenue. Both were badly beaten.

All the car lines of the city and the principal streets were patrolled the entire day by soldiers. Mounted troops, held in readiness at the state house camp, were not called out. A monster demonstration held in the afternoon by the striking carmen was attended by no disorder, however. Governor Harmon on his own initiative has begun negotiations with representatives of the street railway company and the union looking to peaceful settlement. It is said that the company, which has stubbornly resisted all overtures, is willing to make concessions.

LEGS MASHED OFF

Boy Lay For an Hour and a Half Before Being Discovered.

Indianapolis, Aug. 1.—Though he lay for an hour and a half beside the railroad track at the eastern limit of Beech Grove with both his legs mashed off just below the knees by the wheels of a freight train, Thomas Robinson, seventeen years old, was conscious when found by members of a railroad construction gang. In cutting off his legs the wheels had mashed blood vessels together in such a way as to stanch the flow of blood. At the city hospital the boy was expected to die in a few hours.

Henryville, Ind., Aug. 1.—Pink Bowyer, a young man, seventeen years old, of Sellersburg, was drowned while bathing in a pond at Speeds.

PEOPLE OWN THE FAIR

Hoosier Exposition Has Double Tie to the Public of Indiana.

The State Fair is to be held at Indianapolis the week of Sept. 12, and people from Hoosier town and city will turn it to account as a playground, while from the Hoosier farms men and women by tens of thousands will turn to it as a source of education and inspiration, while they also will extract from it as much pleasure as does the urban element. Nothing in Indiana year after year brings together so many thousand people as does the fair, and they assemble there in the spirit that the exposition belongs to them, as it really does, under the state law which created the fair in 1851 and which from that year to this has guided its destiny. To have a fair, it must have a directing force, and the state provided it by creating the State Board of Agriculture. To make the fair in truth representative of Indiana people and interests, the legislature has always held general control of it, the Board of Agriculture being the medium for assembling the exhibits and conducting the fair. To give the fair a double tie to the people, the membership is made up of representatives of county fairs and agricultural societies, and their membership is made up of people from the farms.

In the organizations behind it and in the knowledge and enjoyment it gives them; the State Fair more closely comes to the people than does any other organization in the commonwealth. To keep the fair management without the pale of undue influences, the law makes the Board of Agriculture a non-partisan body, and the hope of gain cannot be an incentive to obtain membership, for the members receive $5 a day for only time actually in the service of the fair, amounting to about $60 a year. The members can have no personal interests in the fair or its property. Each member is elected for a term of two years, and he continues in service only as long as the agricultural district which he represents says he may. Capability means a continuation on the board for the reason that experience adds to the worth of a member in fair management, yet the membership is constantly undergoing changes.

The fair grounds is one of the most valuable pieces of real estate in Indiana and it belongs to the people. It is held in trust for them by the board, which cannot sell or incur the property without permission from the legislature. The fair is not operated for the profit of any man, not even for the board which conducts it. Its profits year after year are turned back into the upbuilding of the exposition. Therein lies the secret of the fair's continuous expansion and the abiding faith which the people of the state have in it as a source of education to the farmer and wholesome enjoyment to every class.

BATTLE IN THE CLOUDS

Pain's Great Aerial Spectacle At the Indiana State Fair.

The most elaborate spectacle ever offered at the Indiana State Fair will be given the week of September 12, when Pain's new pyro-aero-military display, "Battle in the Clouds" is presented. It will be a big night attraction of the fair, given on and above the infield of the racetrack, where 25,000 people may witness it in comfort. Experience of other years has shown the fair management that the crowds cannot all be taken care of at the night horse show in the coliseum, and "Battle in the Clouds" has been provided to give pleasure to as many thousands as may go to the exposition in the evening.

"Battle in the Clouds" undertakes to give a look into the mode of warfare which may prevail in the year 2,000 A. D., when airships, aeroplanes, aerial torpedoes and deadly gas grenades become the engines of human conflict. The spectacle will require a stage 400 feet long, behind which will be stretched sceneries reaching to sixty feet in height, showing a progressive city of the time. On its streets will be several hundred men and women in costumes to enjoy a fete day, with processions, sports and acrobatic pastimes. When the fete is at its height, wireless messages bring word of the approach of an enemy's air fleet, and suddenly the scouting vanguard floats over the city. The forts open fire with electric shells, driving the aerial monsters into retreat, but soon the main fleet advances and opens the attack.

The fort and the fleet open a terrific bombardment of fire shells, aerial torpedoes and bursting bombs, filling the heavens with fire, electric flashes and thunderous detonations. Some of the airships are disabled and leave the firing line; one explodes high in the air; another becomes disabled and dashes to the ground, its men escaping in parachutes. The airships bombard the city's fortifications with high explosives, fire balls and grenades. Battery after battery is silenced and finally the magazine is blown up. Towers and buildings in the city fall and burn and devastation and ruin follows.

The spectacle is marked by vividness and thrilling excitement, and includes elaborate vaudeville and fireworks.

How to Avoid Trouble

Good form demands that at a summer resort guests refrain from making invidious remarks concerning the conduct of others. Of course there is always more or less gossip everywhere, and men are quite as prone to this evil as women. A man who deserved quite exactly what he got was standing in front of a hotel when a very attractive woman passed; he made a remark that was extremely offensive; a quiet looker-on said nothing but joined the lady who happened to be his wife, escorted her to her destination and returned. The offender was not only forced to "eat his words," but to acknowledge that he had never seen the lady before. The scene was not pretty but it gave a lesson to those present and was effective. Women are apt to trade upon the fact that they are exempt from physical punishment for such things and, moreover, are naturally jealous of other women who may be more attractive. A law of etiquette is the strict observance of the rule: "Five things observe with care: To whom you speak, of whom you speak, and how and when and where.

About That Vacation

The committee appointed to arrange for the observance of the 21st anniversary of the founding of the Henry Henley public library met recently with Mrs. Owen S. Hill. It has been decided to hold an open air band concert and ice cream and cake festival Monday night, August 1st on the library lawn. The table waiters will represent the various churches and organizations of Carthage and every effort will be exerted to make this an event in which the entire community and township will be glad to participate. The net proceeds from the sale of cake and cream will be donated to the Carthage band.

The Badge of Honesty

Is on every wrapper of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery because a full list of ingredients composing it is printed in plain English. More than forty years of experience has proved its superior worth as a blood-purifier and invigorating agent, the cure of stomach disorders and all liver ills. It builds up a run-down system as no other tonic can in which alcohol is used. The active medicinal principles of native roots such as the Seal and Queen's root, Stone root and Mandrake root, Licorice and Black Cherrybark are extracted and preserved by the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine.

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce at Buffalo, N. Y., for a booklet which quotes extracts from well-recognized medical authorities such as Drs. Bartholow, King, Scudder, Coe, Ellingwood and a host of others, showing that these roots can be depended upon for their curative action in all weak states of the stomach, accompanied by indigestion or dyspepsia as well as in all bilious or liver complaints and in all "wasting diseases" where there is loss of flesh and gradual running down of the strength and system.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, pure blood and so invigorates and regulates the stomach, liver and bowels, and through them, the whole system. Thus all skin affections, blotches, pimples and eruptions as well as scrofulous swellings and old open running sores or ulcers are cured and healed.

In treating old running sores, or ulcers, it is well to insure their healing by applying to them Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve. If your druggist don't happen to have it, send fifty cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Friend and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and a large box of the "All-Healing Salve" will reach you by return post.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine of known composition, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Though he offers the substitute for a less price you can't afford to experiment with your health. Go where they give you what you ask for without argument.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

BIG HOG RAISER.

(Shelbyville Democrat.)

Bracken Wagoner, one of Rush county's prosperous farmers and stockmen passed through the city on his way to Indianapolis yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Wagoner shipped 141 hogs to market yesterday, one car load of the lot going to Cincinnati, while the remainder were on the market at Indianapolis today. The hogs were raised on Mr. Wagoner's farm near Gowdy and averaged 216 pounds. About the first of the present month Mr. Wagoner shipped another car load of his own raising to Indianapolis, for which he received $9.10 per hundred.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

NO SENSE IN AUTO HORNS.

(Richmond Palladium.)

War on shrill whistles of motorcycles will be immediately begun by I. A. Gorman, superintendent of police. City Clerk Bescher has been instructed to send for copies of ordinances of Indianapolis regulating motorcycles, both in regard to noise and whistles. Mr. Gorman says there is no sense in warning signals which resemble pigs or children being crushed under the machines. Much complaint has been heard by the police department because of hideous whistles on automobiles and motorcycles. Indianapolis and Cincinnati both have ordinances requiring musical whistles to be used and also mufflers.

REAL CAMP MEETING.

(Shelbyville Democrat.)

Commencing on Sunday, August 14, and lasting for eight days, Westerfield's grove at Manilla is to be the scene of a genuine old-fashioned colored camp-meeting. The meeting is to be under the management of the Rev. C. J. Nichols, who has returned to this part of the country after an absence of twenty-five years. He will be assisted by the Rev. T. J. Leggett of Rushville, and Rev. I. F. White of this city, who will have charge of the sermon features. Plantation singing is to have a prominent place on the program and the choruses will be led by Mrs. M. J. Nicholas, the great plantation singer.

JOHN G. CARLISLE

Old Statesman and Prominent Lawyer Dead at New York.

DEATH CLAIMS NOTED FIGURE IN POLITICS

John G. Carlisle's Busy Career Has Come to An End.

New York, Aug. 1.—John Griffith Carlisle, President Cleveland's secretary of the treasury, who has been ill at the Hotel Wolcott since Tuesday last, died at 10:50 Sunday night. With him at the bedside were his daughter-in-law, Mrs. William K. Carlisle, and his two granddaughters, Mrs. Frederick L. Allen and Mrs. Louis Sherman Pitkin, the latter of New Haven. Mr. Carlisle was seriously ill in St. Vincent's hospital last November, but recovered enough to return to his Washington home. He came to New York again about ten days or two weeks ago. His illness was diagnosed as acute indigestion.

John G. Carlisle had ceased to be a national figure long ago, but for many years of his life he commanded public attention throughout the country by reason of his service at Washington in the house and senate, and finally in the cabinet, where he was Cleveland's secretary of the treasury in the second term. He spent his younger years in his native state of Kentucky, his middle life at Washington, and his latter years in New York. He held public office practically all the time from his twenty-fifth year to his sixty-third, having served in the assembly and the senate of his state before going to Washington. He was the son of a farmer and was born on Sept. 5, 1835, in Campbell (now Kenton) county, Kentucky.

After the expiration of his term of office as secretary of the treasury he resumed the practice of law and later moved to New York.

He married Mary Jane Goodson, who predeceased him. They had two sons, Logan Carlisle and William Kincaid Carlisle, both of whom are now dead.

The body was taken today to Mr. Carlisle's home at 1426 K street, N. W. Washington. From there it will be taken to Covington, Ky., where burial will be made on Wednesday.

KING ALFONSO

Who Is Facing a Big Row Between Church and State.

NO OFFICIAL NOTE

Spain's Intentions Not Officially Communicated to the Vatican.

Rome, Aug. 1.—Officials at the vatican have given assurances that the note of Prime Minister Canalejas of Spain to the effect that the Spanish government had decided to break off negotiations with the vatican had not been received. Neither had any intimation been received of the recall of Marquis De Ojeda, Spanish minister to the vatican. It was pointed out that the communication of the Spanish note to the press before it reached the holy see proved the indelicacy of the Canalejas diplomacy. Marquis De Ojeda, the Spanish ambassador to the vatican, is still here, but is ready to leave at any moment.

The Carlists Taking Hope.

Madrid, Aug. 1.—Following the long expected rupture between church and state, anarchy, republicanism, or a Carlist government, with Don Jaime, the pretender, on the throne, are among some of the things predicted throughout the kingdom. Demonstrations are feared and extraordinary precautions are being taken by the military here and in Barcelona, where the Carlist feeling is especially strong, to prevent an outbreak.

DROWNED HER CHILDREN

Rancher's Wife, Insane From Loneliness, Slays Her Little Ones.

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—The drowning of her four young children by Mrs. J. M. Mello, wife of a rich rancher living near Brentwood, has shocked that community. The woman was evidently insane on account of the loneliness of the country. She lived in a big farmhouse with her husband and six children, the oldest being Chester, a boy of fourteen. No servant was employed.

After writing letters to her relatives telling them she was desperate through loneliness, she took five children into the kitchen and deliberately set about killing them. First she strangled little Ramona, a four-year-old girl, and then drowned her in a bathtub. Leona, two years old, came next. She snatched the baby from the arms of her boy and killed the child like the other. Then she seized her twin babies, five months old, and plunged them in the tub.

Little Chester, who vainly tried to stop his mother's dreadful work, rushed out into the yard and screamed for help. Sheriff Veale happened to be passing in an auto, and responded. He tried to resuscitate the twins, but vainly. Then he took the mother to Martinez and placed her in the county hospital.

Lee Statue Approved by Taft.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 1.—The statue of General Robert E. Lee, clothed in the uniform of the Confederacy, will be allowed a position in Statuary hall in the capitol, if this administration has anything to do about it. Mr. Taft has just made public an opinion from Attorney General Wickersham, in which the latter declares there is nothing in the act of congress under which the states of the Union place statues of their famous men in that hall, to prevent Virginia from placing there a statue of one of her famous sons. The president approves the Wickersham letter.

Tried to Kill Sister.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 1.—James C. Livingston tried with a heavy timber ax to kill his sister, Mrs. Thomas Herrold, and his brother-in-law, Thomas Herrold, on the Herrold farm, and was foiled in his attempt only after his arm had been broken by Herrold and he had been beaten to unconsciousness. He pleaded guilty to the attempted murder of Mr. and Mrs. Herrold and was bound over to the Laporte circuit court on $1,000 bond.

Says He Was Justified.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 1.—Samuel A. Michael, slayer of L. C. Pippinger, who was released from custody on $10,000 bail following a preliminary hearing at Delphi before Justice of the Peace Collins, has arrived here. Michael seemed nervous when he attempted to converse with friends. "I am justified before the Lord; I did God's work," he repeated over and over.

Biggest Loaf of Bread

The largest loaf of bread in the world was baked the other day by Andrew Newberg, of Austin. The gigantic mass of the staff of life weighed 140 pounds and was two feet high, three feet wide, and twelve feet long. After the ingredients were mixed the baking process consumed over an hour, a special oven being used for the purpose. The loaf was sent to a barbecue at Moulton, where it was cut and distributed for a large crowd. Mr. Newberg accompanied the bread to its destination to see that it was safely carried. By making this loaf Mr. Newberg breaks his own record for the largest loaf of bread in the world, which was one weighing a hundred pounds sent to the Louisiana Purchase exhibition at St. Louis in 1904.

Defines "Fake" Schemes

Gradually it is dawning upon the minds of the commercial activities of the world that the only legitimate method of advertising is in the columns of the newspapers. "Fake advertising schemes," as enumerated by the Canton (O.) Business Men's Association at a meeting held recently, included many of the popular methods that have grown familiar by persistent use. The association went on record as favoring only legitimate newspaper advertising. By resolution it defined as "fake" advertising the following: Score cards, hotel registers, opera house, church, secret society and other programs, holiday advertising sheets, blotting board schemes, clocks and thermometers.

Consumption is First

The annual report of the State board of health containing statistics for the year 1908 has just been received from the printer. The report contains a full account of the work of the board. An interesting feature is the table showing the principal causes of death for the last nine years. In 1908 pulmonary tuberculosis was the cause of the greatest number of deaths, organic diseases being second, pneumonia, third; accident, fourth; and cancer, fifth. Smallpox was the least and caused only ten deaths during the year. Tuberculosis caused 3825 deaths and organic disease 3261.

About That Vacation

Where shall I spend my vacation? This is the question which a number of persons are pondering over this month. Of course if one has a sufficient amount of means this question is easily settled. But to the office girl and a horde of others who are working on a small salary the question is a little harder to decide. However, there is the country which is always a good place to go for rest and recreation. Then camping parties are always in vogue during August and September. For the stay-at-homes morning parties and such social gayeties would be a change from the regular routine and when one comes to think about it the change is really what one needs after a year's work at the same thing.

WATSON READY FOR WORK FOR REPUBLICAN CAUSE.

I am exceedingly anxious to see our state ticket successful this fall. I am equally solicitous for the welfare of our legislative ticket. I urge on my friends the necessity for standing together for party success. Whatever I can do, either publicly or privately, looking to the election of the ticket, shall be done.

I cheerfully concede to every other man what I tenaciously claim for myself, the right to act according to convictions.

Majority rule is absolutely essential for the preservation of government. I believe the rule holds good in every convention and in every legislative caucus. In my long experience in politics I have always believed it my duty to abide by the rule of the majority in every convention and every caucus.

This is a government by parties. As long as the present form is maintained there can not be successful government in any other way. For by this method alone can the people express themselves at the polls with the understanding that their wishes will be carried into law.—James E. Watson, in speech at Boonville, Ind., July 14, 1910.

No Kick on the Lemon

Nobody gets the worst of it if he's handed a lemon." According to a booklet published by the fruitgrowers of California, some of the things a lemon or its juice, will do are: Prevent gripe, heads off contagion, purifies drinking water, lowers fever, makes the finest toilet water, is the best mouth wash, cures biliousness, drives away chilblains, relieves neuralgia, removes corn, prevents dandruff, cures rheumatism, takes the pain out of a bee sting, cures catarrh, relieves stomach trouble, increases the action of other medicines, is a great tonic, insures good health, stops hoarseness and brings back a lost voice, is a heart invigorator, cures headaches, is excellent for the lungs, reduces flesh, cures coughs, cures croup, is a fine eyewash, one of the best liver regulators, cures sore throat, stops bleeding cuts, in the bath is better than soap, removes freckles, sunburn, tan and eczema; great complexion beautifier, fine for the hair, cures cold damp feet and hands; greatest adjunct to manicuring, softens water, removes stains, kills odors, cleans brass, cleans copper, cleans silver, and removes mildew. But a lemon will not run a street car nor pitch a ball game.

How to Cure Eczema, Pimples, And Dandruff.

We desire to say that when we took the agency for ZEMO, we were convinced that it was a valuable remedy for Eczema, pimples, and dandruff. Yet, we must frankly admit that Zemo has far exceeded our expectations as a treatment for skin diseases. We are pleased to state that we shall continue the agency as ZEMO has given splendid results wherever recommended. Our customers like ZEMO too, because it is a clean vegetable liquid for external use.

ZEMO effects its cures by drawing to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disease, leaving the skin clear and healthy. It does not soil the clothing or linen and can be used freely on infants.

With every purchase, we give a booklet on skin disease explaining in simple words how any person can be cured at home of any form of skin or scalp diseases by this clean, scientific remedy. F. E. Wolcott, Druggist.

LIBRARY BECOMES MORE POPULAR

Report For Month Shows That D. A.

R. Institution Has Loaned Out 952 Books.

HAD FOUR HUNDRED PATRONS

With the ending month and the coming of a new one the good which the D. A. R. library in the court house is doing is brought forcibly to light. The report made by the librarian, Miss Sleeth, shows that a total of nine hundred and fifty-two books were loaned during the month of July, six hundred and twenty-nine of that number being read by adults and three hundred and twenty-three by children. The report shows that a daily average of thirty-eight books were loaned.

The patrons for the month totaled four hundred, many of that number being country people. The library now contains nine hundred and twelve books, seven hundred and twelve of that number being donated and two hundred being borrowed from the State library. At the beginning of the month eight hundred and one could be found on the shelves of the library, which means that one hundred and eleven have been donated during the month.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

FACTORY ASSUMED.

(Columbus Republican.)

Hope people declare that their new smokeless powder factory is assured and that unless something unforeseen happens the factory will be removed from St. Paul to that place in the near future. Representatives of the factory will be in Hope again tomorrow, and at that time the last of the stock needed to complete the deal is expected to be sold. The Hope Utility League is behind the deal, and has been active in promoting the stock sale.

TO WATCH FOR VIOLATORS.

(Greensburg Democrat.)

Deputy Prosecutor George W. Bruce received a letter one day recently from the Indiana State Board of Resignation and Examination in Optometry, instructing him to make a thorough investigation and prosecute all violators of the optometry law in Decatur county. The law prohibits all people from fitting glasses by the aid of any kind of appliances or adjusting, or determining what kind a patient should wear without first procuring licenses from the State Board of Optometry. Prosecutor Bruce says the law must be obeyed.

The Garfield family is well provided for by the pension granted by congress and the income of a large public fund.

INTEREST IN WHEAT YIELD.

Owing to the great interest in the yield of the wheat crop in Rush county this season, especially this season, as it was feared that it would be a failure the Daily Republican is offering one year's subscription to the Daily Republican free for the best yield in the county and six months' subscription to the Daily free for the second best yield. The wheat must be up to the standard, which is fifty-eight pounds to the bushel. The conditions of the contest require that the farmer must mail to this office, the number of acres which he has harvested and the mean average in bushels per acre. It is also requested that the approximate date of threshing be given and also the place where the wheat was sold. It is urged that the matter be mailed so that no mistake will be made. In telephoning there is danger of the wrong figures being taken and an error be made in awarding the prizes. Please address to the "Wheat Contest Editor."

An Expert's Opinion of Skin Disease.

A prominent, national expert on skin diseases whose name you are familiar with says that in all his scientific experience he has never found so hard a disease to conquer as Eczema. Yet he does not hesitate to recommend ZEMO as a most successful remedy for the treatment of Eczema, itching skin disease, dandruff, pimples, blackheads and all other diseases of the skin and scalp. He says that not only do its curative qualities make it popular but also the fact that it is a clean, liquid remedy for external use. A great improvement over the old style greasy salves and lotions which are not only unpleasant to use but do not destroy the germ life that causes the disease. ZEMO draws the germs to the surface and destroys them, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Can be used freely on infants. Mr. F. E. Wolcott will gladly supply those who call with a free sample bottle of ZEMO and a booklet which explains in simple language all about skin disease and how to cure yourself at home with ZEMO.

AMUSEMENTS

The Vaude management will offer a Bison feature film tonight in the subject, "A Sister's Devotion." It is advertised as a highly entertaining drama with an attractive plot. It is said that many interesting incidents are pictured in the films and a very thrilling story is told by the picture in motion. A new illustrated song will be sung.

"A Postal Substitute" is the title of the film to be shown at the Palace theater tonight. It is a drama with a strong plot, replete with startling situations. With the advent of the rural free delivery, the covering of the country with railroads increased the facilities for transportation, and has done away with the picturesque "pony express." But the subject at the Palace tonight deals with the experience of a "pony express" rider and his substitute and brings back the olden days clearly. A new illustrated song will be sung.

The Star-Grand Air Dome offers tonight one of the Pathe Freres American sensational drama's entitled "The Great Train Hold-Up." Leon Maxey will sing "My Love For You is Like The Stars That Shine."

The Girl and the Bill

By Bannister Merwin

Illustrations by Ray Walton

(Copyright, 1900, Dodd, Mead Company.)

"How is he?" asked the policeman. "All right, I guess," replied the life-saver. "I looked in a few minutes ago, and he was sitting up. Hello, Asuki."

"Hello, there," responded the little Japanese.

"Come," said the policeman, after an unsuspicious glance at Orme, and, mounting the steps, he led his interpreter into the station.

Now, indeed, it was time for Orme to slip away. Maku might be brought out at any moment. But Orme lingered. He was nearer to the solution of the secret if he kept close to Maku, and he realized, for that matter, that by watching Maku closely and, perhaps, following him home, he might be led straight to the other man. If Maku accused him, it should not, after all, be hard to laugh the charge away.

A murmur of voices came from within the station, the policeman's words alone being distinguishable.

"Ask him," the policeman said, "if he knows who hit him."

The undertones of a foreign jargon followed.

"Well, then," continued the policeman, "find out where he came from and what he was doing on the campus."

Again the undertones, and afterward an interval of silence. Then the policeman spoke in an undecided voice.

"If he don't know anything, I can't do anything. But we might as well get a few more facts. Something might turn up. Ask him whether he saw anybody following him when he went into the campus."

Orme had been straining his ears in a vain endeavor to catch the words of Asuki. But suddenly his attention was diverted by a sound from the lake. It was the "puh-puh-puh" of a motor-boat, apparently a little distance to the northward. The explosions followed one another in rapid succession.

He turned to the life-saver.

"What boat is that?" he asked.

"I don't know. Some party from Chicago, probably. She came up an hour or so ago—at least, I suppose she's the same one."

The explosions were now so rapid as to make almost one continuous roar.

"She's a fast one, all right," commented the life-saver. "Hear her go!"

"Are there many fast boats on the lake?"

"Quite a number. They run out from Chicago harbor now and then."

Orme was meditating.

"Exactly how long ago did this boat pass?"

"Oh, an hour or more. Why?"

"She seems to have been beached up north here a little way."

"She may have been. Or they've been lying to out there."

In Orme's mind arose a surmise that in this motor-boat Maku and his companion had come from Chicago.

"Perhaps I Steered Too Far South."

The surmise was so strong as to develop quickly into a certainty. And if the Japanese had come by this boat, it stood to reason that the one who had the papers was escaping in it. He must have waited some time for Maku and, at last, had pushed off to return alone.

Were these Japanese acting for themselves? That did not seem possible. Then who was their employer?

Orme did not puzzle long over these questions, for he had determined on a course of action. He spoke to the life-saver, who appeared to be listening to the droning conversation which continued within the station.

"The hold-up men may be in that boat," remarked Orme.

"Hardly." A laugh accompanied the answer.

"Well, why not? She came north an hour or so ago and either was beached or lay to until just now."

"You may be right." Then, before

Orme knew what was happening, the young man opened the door and called into the station: "Hey, there! Your robber is escaping on that motor-boat out there."

"What's that?" The policeman strode to the door.

"Don't you hear that boat out there?" asked the life-saver.

"Sure, I hear it."

"Well, she came up from the south an hour or more ago and stopped a little north of here. Now she's going back. Mr. Holmes, here"—he grinned as he said it—"Mr. Holmes suggests that the hold-up man is aboard."

The reference to the famous detective of fiction was lost upon the policeman. "I guess that's about it, Mr. Holmes," he said excitedly; and Orme was much relieved to note that the life-saver's humorous reference had passed for an introduction. The policeman would have no suspicion of him now—unless Maku—

There was an exclamation from within the room. "What's the matter?" asked the policeman, turning in the doorway.

The voice of Asuki replied: "He say the robber came in a bicycle—not in a boat."

"But I thought he didn't see the fellow coming."

"He remember now."

The policeman started. "How did he know what we were talking about here?" he demanded.

"He understand English, but not speak it," replied Asuki readily.

To the policeman this explanation was satisfactory. Orme, of course, found in it a corroboration of his guess. Maku evidently did not wish suspicion directed against the motor-boat.

The policeman reentered the station, eager to avail himself of the information which Maku was now disposed to give him.

Orme turned to the life-saver. "The Jap is lying," he said.

"Think so?"

"Of course. If he understands English so well, he certainly knows how to make himself understood in it. His story of the bicycle is preposterous."

"But what then?"

"Doesn't it occur to you that perhaps the Jap himself is the robber? His intended victim may have got the better of him."

"Yes," said the young man doubtfully, "but the fellow ran."

"That would be natural. Doubtless he didn't want any notoriety. It's possible that he thought he had killed his assailant, and had an unpleasant vision of being detained in the local jail until the affair could be cleared up."

The life-saver looked at Orme searchingly.

"That sounds pretty straight," he said at last. "I guess you know what you are talking about."

"Perhaps I do," said Orme quietly. "In any event I'd like to see who's in that boat out there."

"There isn't a boat nearer than Chicago that could catch her. They have run her several miles out into the lake before turning south, or she would have been pretty close to Chicago already. She's going fast."

The roar of the motor was indeed becoming a far-off sound.

"Why not telephone the Chicago police to intercept her?"

"There's no evidence against her," replied Orme; "only surmises."

"I know, but—"

"And, as I suggested, whoever was attacked by that Jap in there may not want notoriety."

Suddenly the distant explosions stopped—began again—stopped. Several times they were renewed at short intervals—"puh-puh-puh"—"puh-puh"—"puh-puh-puh"—then they ceased altogether.

"Hello!" exclaimed the life-saver. "They've broken down."

He picked up a pair of binoculars

REAPING BENEFIT

From the Experience of Rushville People.

We are fortunate indeed to be able to profit by the experience of our neighbors. The public utterances of Rushville residents of the following subject will interest and benefit thousands of our readers. Read this statement. No better proof can be had.

Mrs. W. A. Wylie, 824 North Arthur Street, Rushville, Ind., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in our family and we have found them to be a splendid remedy for kidney complaint. A member of our family suffered from attacks of headache for several years, the trouble being caused by disordered kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to our attention and thinking they might prove of benefit, we procured a supply at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store. The use of two boxes of this remedy entirely relieved the headache and strengthened the kidneys. I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills at that time and I still take pleasure in saying a good word for them."

AN OLD-TIME PRESCRIPTION

In a modern product. From time immemorial sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost every one knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair and making it grow. In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready to use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. Such a preparation is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, which is sold by all leading druggists for 50c. and $1.00 a bottle, or which is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by Hargrove & Mullin.

which had been lying on the veranda near him, and scanned the surface of the lake.

"Make her out?" queried Orme.

"No, she's too small, and too far off." He handed the night-glass to Orme, who in turn searched the water vainly.

"Whose boat is that moored to the breakwater?" asked Orme, lowering the glass.

"Belongs to a man here in town."

"Would he rent it?"

"No. But he lets us run it once in awhile. We keep an eye on it for him."

Orme took out his watch. "It's almost 12," he said. "You'll be relieved in a few moments. Do you suppose I could persuade you to take me out to the other boat?"

The life-saver hesitated. "I'd like to," he said. "But my study—"

"There'll be some sport, if we get within reach of the man out there," Orme put in.

"Well—I'll do it—though the chances are that they will make their repairs and be off again before we come within a mile."

"I'm much obliged to you," said Orme. "If you would let me make it right—"

"For taking you out in another man's boat? No, sir."

"I know. Well—my name is Orme, not Holmes."

"And mine," grinned the life-saver, "is Porter."

A man turned in from the drive, and sauntered toward them.

"There's my relief," said Porter.

"Hello, Kelmsley."

"Hello," replied the newcomer.

"Just wait till I punch the clock," said Porter to Orme.

"Punch the clock? Oh, I see; the government times you."

"Yes."

Porter went into the station for a moment; then, returning, he exchanged a few words with the relief and led Orme down to the breakwater. The launch which was moored there proved to be a sturdy boat, built for strength rather than for speed.

Orme cast off while Porter removed the tarpaulin from the motor and made ready to turn the wheel over.

"Is the policeman still busy with the Jap?" Orme questioned suddenly.

"Yes."

"He won't get anything out of him," said Orme—"except fairy-stories."

Porter started the motor and stepped forward to the steering-wheel. Slowly the launch pushed out into the open lake, and the lights of the shore receded.

No sound had come from the disabled boat since its motor stopped. Doubtless it was too far off for the noise of repairs to be heard on the shore. Orme peered over the dark surface of the water, but he could see nothing except the lights of a distant steamer.

"I know why he went out so far," remarked Porter. "He is running without lights."

"That in itself is suspicious, isn't it?" Orme asked.

"Why, yes, I suppose so—though people aren't always as careful as they might be. Our own lights aren't lighted, you see."

"Have you any clue at all as to where she is?"

"Only from the direction the sounds came from just before the explosions stopped. She had headway enough to slide some distance after that, and I'm allowing for it—and for the currents. With the lake as it is, she would be carried in a little."

For nearly half an hour they continued straight out toward mid-lake. Orme noticed that there was a slight swell. The lights of Evanston were now mere twinkling distant points, far away over the dark void of the waters.

Porter shut off the power. "We must be pretty near her," he said.

They listened intently.

"Perhaps I steered too far south," said Porter at last.

He threw on the power, and sent the boat northward in slow, wide circles. The distant steamship had made progress toward the northeast—bound, perhaps, for Muskegon, or some other port on the Michigan shore. She was a passenger steamer, apparently, for lines of portholes and deck-windows were marked by dots of light. There was no other sign of human presence to be seen on the lake, and Orme's glance expectantly wandered to her lights now and then.

At last, while he was looking at it, after a fruitless search of the darkness, he was startled by a strange phenomenon. The lights of the steamer suddenly disappeared. An instant later they shone out again.

With an exclamation, Orme seized the steering-wheel and swung it over to the right.

"There she is," he cried, and then: "Excuse me for taking the wheel that way, but I was afraid I'd lose her."

"I don't see her," said Porter.

"No; but something dark cut off the lights of that steamer. Hold her so." He let go the wheel and peered ahead.

Presently they both saw a spot of blacker blackness in the night. Porter set the motor at half-speed.

"Have you got a bull's-eye lantern?" asked Orme in an undertone.

"Yes, in that locker."

Orme stooped and lighted the lantern in the shelter of the locker.

"Now run up alongside," he said, "and ask if they need help."

The outline of the disabled boat now grew more distinct. Porter swung around toward it and called:

"Need help?"

After a moment's wait, a voice replied:

"Yes. You tow me to Chicago. I pay you."

It was a voice which Orme recognized as that of the Japanese who had been with Maku in the attack at the Pere Marquette.

"Can't do that," answered Porter.

"I'll take you in to Evanston."

"No!" The tone was expostulatory. "I go to Chicago. I fix engine pretty soon."

At this moment Orme raised his lantern and directed its light into the other boat. It shone into the blinking eyes of the Japanese, standing by the motor. It shone—

Great Heaven! Was he dreaming? Orme could not believe his eyes. The light revealed the face of the one person he least expected to see—for, seated on a cushion at the forward end of the cockpit, was the girl

If Sick

Don't risk even one single penny!

And I will tell you why I say this.

It is because every package of Dr. Shoop's medicine is absolutely free if it fails.

No one need risk even one single penny.

Just think what this means to the suffering sick!

No risk, no expense, nothing whatever unless health first returns for 30 full days, and without the risk of a single penny, you can use either of my two famous remedies—Dr. Shoop's Restorative or Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy.

Then why take any chance whatever?

Why purchase any medicine whose maker does not back it just as I do by this remarkable offer?

And besides, I am not a doctor to you.

My "No Risk" plan has made Dr. Shoop's Restorative a favorite in every drug store in the land. The doctor who said, "We take no chance whatever here."

For twenty years Dr. Shoop's medicines have become thoroughly standardized all over America.

And I have a good honest and responsible druggist in every city and village everywhere to advise you of my medicines and yours. These selected druggists are placing my medicines with the sick—and the entire risk is mine alone.

But write me first for an order.

I have an agent in almost every community—but all druggists are not authorized to grant the 30 day test.

So drop me a line, please—and thus save all disappointments and delays.

Besides, you are free to consult me by letter as you would your home physician. Do so freely and fully—if you desire. My advice and the book below are yours—and without cost. Perhaps a word or two from me will clear up some serious ailment. I have helped thousands upon thousands by my private prescription or personal advice plan.

Besides, the books will open up new and helpful ideas to you. They tell of my 30 years experience at the bedside in homes and in Hospitals. All phases of sickness and relief are told of here. They tell of a "cure" inside nerve—no larger than a silver needle—but gives to the Heart its impulse. How the Stomach and Kidney each have their inside or power nerve. How these organs surely falter when these controlling or master nerves begin to fail. How Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes deep to these failing nerves, and rebuilds, and vitalizes and restores the lost tone and power. I can surely help you—if it is within the power of medicine to do so. My best effort is surely worth your simple request. So write now, while it is fresh in mind, for tomorrow never comes. Dr. Shoop, Box 12, Racine, Wis.

GLAD IT'S OVER SAID CRIPPEN

London Fugitive's Anxiety Too
Much For Him to Bear.

UXORICIDE WELCOMED ARREST

Man For Whom Police of the World Have Been Searching For Weeks Was Found With His Female Companion on the Steamer Montrose, Having Sailed From Antwerp For Quebec in Fruitless Flight.

Quebec, Aug. 1.—Dr. Hawley H. Crippen, wanted for the murder of his wife, Belle Elmore, the American actress, in London, and Miss Leneve, his former stenographer, are in the grasp of Scotland Yard. At 8 o'clock Sunday morning Inspector Dew, who on the faster Laurentic had beaten the fugitives to port, boarded the Montrose off Father Point with the pilot, and in a few minutes handcuffs were on the man for whom the police of the world have been searching for the past three weeks. As for Miss Leneve, when arrested she fainted in her cabin, still dressed in boy's clothing.

When Dew touched Crippen on the shoulder all the latter said was: "I am glad the suspense is over. The anxiety was too great for me to bear."

Crippen was immediately taken to cabin 8, while Miss Leneve remained in Room 5 in a state of collapse. This is the room that "John Philo Robinson, merchant, of Detroit, and John George Robinson, student," had occupied. Miss Leneve was given girl's clothing as soon as the arrest was made. In a few moments the Montrose was on her way to Quebec.

Crippen and Miss Leneve had breakfast as usual Sunday morning and afterward the girl in boy's clothes retired to her cabin while Crippen paced the deck on the port side. Dr. Stewart, the ship's surgeon, spoke to him just as the pilot boat got within hailing distance.

"It's a cold morning," Mr. Robinson, remarked Dr. Stewart.

"Yes," replied Crippen, looking at the fast approaching boat. Then he added: "There seems to be a lot of men in that boat."

Dr. Stewart, in describing the arrest, said while Crippen had been very nervous since the gulf was reached, he did not seem to be apprehensive of the stop at Father Point until he saw the boatload of men pulling for the ship. Then he turned pale. Inspector Dew walked up the deck and when he got near where Crippen and Dr. Stewart were standing he stopped and beckoned to Crippen. The latter did not falter for a moment, but walked straight over to where the sleuth from Scotland Yard was standing. Dew took him by the arm and led him to the captain's room under the bridge, where the arrest was made. As the steel bracelets clamped his wrists he looked at Dew for a moment and said he was glad the suspense was over.

Then he was quickly led down to a vacant cabin, where he was searched. The first search of his outer clothing revealed only a $10 bill, a watch and a pencil. No revolver, not even a knife, was found. Pinned to his undershirt, however, were five lady's diamond rings and a diamond pin. Miss Leneve when searched also had in her possession a splendid diamond brooch.

Sitting in the cabin handcuffed and coatless, Crippen presented a curious spectacle. There is no doubt that the man had been eating his heart out with fear for the past few days, although it is equally sure he felt that the blow would fall at Quebec and not Father Point. He sat on the small lounge with his head buried in his manacled hands, huddled back in a corner. He kept twitching his hands nervously and during the time the detectives were searching him, he looked sheepish, like nothing so much as a small boy caught stealing jam.

Miss Leneve was searched after she revived from the collapse which followed her arrest. Dew asked her several questions, trying to draw from her what knowledge she had of the crime. She volunteered little information. The Montrose, with Dr. Crippen and the Leneve girl arrived here at 1:30 this morning. The prisoners were looked up. If Crippen and the girl waive extradition the process of returning will not be lengthy, but if he decides to exercise his rights in this respect the proceedings will take four weeks before Inspector Dew can return to England with his prisoners.

AUNT DELLA TAFT IS HOSTESS FOR FAMILY

President Heads Sunday Party
On Brief Visit.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 1.—President Taft motored 150 miles Sunday through a smiling New England countryside to see his aunt, Miss Della Torrey, of Millsbury. Mrs. Taft, Charlie Taft and the president's brother, Henry W. Taft of New York, went along too. Horace D. Taft, another brother of the president, was already at Aunt Della's home and there was a little reunion in the quaint colonial mansion on the outskirts of the village of most of the Taft family. It was whispered about that some of that famous apple pie which Aunt Della knows so well how to make was waiting for "Will" Taft, and it was said the president did justice to it.

Taft started from Beverly shortly after 10 o'clock in the morning. The big White House steamer pulled into Millsbury just after 1. Coming back it left Aunt Della's house at 4 o'clock, and at 8 the president was back at the Evans cottage. The speedometer registered more than 150 miles. The trip was made quietly and without display. It was just a holiday visit for the president, and not a policeman nor a local committeeman bothered him in all the long journey. Only once did a cop figure in the ride, and that was when the president's car started in on the speedway at Revere beach, near Boston. That speedway is sacred from 3 in the afternoon until 10 at night to foot passengers and those in horse-pulled vehicles. But the name of the president was mighty. They opened the gates of the speedway to him, and a uniformed cop mounted the step of the car and waved the crowds away from in front.

Amazons a Historic Reality.
Ancona, Aug. 1.—Excavations at the ancient necropolis of Belmonte have revealed two tombs of female warriors with war chariots over the remains like the men's tombs recently discovered. This find shows that the existence of Amazon heroines is a historic reality.

LUST OF BLOOD ACTUATED MOB

Wholesale Killing of Negroes
Down in Texas.

MORE THAN TWENTY SLAIN

With No Nearer Ground Than a Suspicion of Possible Incendiarism, Mob Forms Near Palestine and Ruthless Rode About the Country, Slaying Unresisting Negroes Wherever They Were Met, on Road or in Field.

Palestin, Tex., Aug. 1.—A posse of more than a hundred armed men has been scouring the country around the Slocum and Denson settlements in this county, hunting down negroes and white men who were involved in the racial trouble that led to the slaughter of more than twenty negroes Saturday and the night before. A company of militia from Marshall and a detachment of rangers from Austin have also arrived and are in control of the situation. The slaughter of the negroes was not the result of any race war, though the feeling which the wholesale killing engendered threatened for a time to cause an uprising on the part of the negroes of the two places. Mobs of white men started out early Friday night and rode from cabin to cabin, calling out the negroes who had been marked for the slaughter and shot them down in their tracks. This work of carnage continued all Friday night, and with the dawning of a new day the lust of the mob for blood seemed to increase. Negroes were shot and killed on the roads and in the fields where they were working, despite the prayers and pleadings which they made that their lives be spared.

A pile of twenty dead bodies of victims have been scattered on the roads and over the country. It may never be known how many more negroes were killed in out-of-the-way places where their remains may never be found. So far as learned the negroes who were killed offered no resistance to the mob. The wholesale slaughter of negroes was brought about by the report that reached the ears of white men of the Slocum community that secret meetings of the blacks were held at which plans were formed for burning the barns and residences of certain white citizens.

A number of white men who are alleged to have belonged to the mob will be arrested and placed in jail as soon as warrants can be issued and served. It is stated that several suspects have been taken into custody by the local officers. Many negroes have fled from the Slocum and Denson communities since the trouble commenced.

TAKEN AT LAST

Four Months' Search for Joseph Wendling Ends at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—Covering under the cabinet work of a kitchen sink in a Third street lodging house, Joseph Wendling, charged with the murder of eight-year-old Alma Kellner in Louisville, Ky., for whom the police of that city have searched for four months, was arrested.

Although admitting his identity, Wendling stoutly maintained his innocence of the crime. He denies that he ever heard the name of Alma Kellner. Wendling's arrest was the result of the long chase after him made by Captain of Detectives J. P. Carney of Louisville. After a visit to New Orleans and Houston, Tex., Wendling finally arrived at Vallejo, thirty miles from this city, where he went under the name of Henry Jacquemin and worked as an electrician and engineer. Carney located him in Vallejo and set in motion the forces which finally placed the man in the hands of the police.

Wendling admitted his identity without question. He said he left Louisville on Jan. 18, four months before the mutilated body of the Kellner girl was found, because of a quarrel with his brother-in-law, but he refused to say a word that would in any way connect him with the death of the child, although confronted with all the evidence held by the Louisville officers.

TRAIN DESTROYED

Two Persons Killed and Eighteen Injured on a Southern Road.

Augusta, Ga., Aug. 1.—Two were killed and eighteen injured, two seriously, when a passenger train on the Charleston & Western Carolina road went down with a burning trestle about 8 o'clock Sunday night. The dead are Engineer Taylor and Fireman Dunbar of Augusta. Baggage man Cox and Mail Clerk Bloom were seriously injured, but will likely recover. Sixteen passengers also were painfully injured. The train took fire when it went down with the trestle, and the engine and every coach was entirely destroyed.

Boy Killed by Cars.
Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 1.—Returning to his home in South Bloomington, Carl Shepherd, aged ten, son of Michael Shepherd, day switchman at the yards, was instantly killed. In starting to walk across a track to his home the lad was run down by a switch engine, both legs and arms being severed. He was killed within sight of his parents' home.

"WHITE TOPS" TO BE PLENTIFUL

Company Feature of Chautauqua
This Year Expected to be a Very Popular One.

IT RECEIVES A NEW IMPETUS

It is not at all improbable that the camping feature of this year's annual chautauqua, to be held at the city park, beginning next Sunday, for eight days, will be a popular one. In previous years the tents have been liberally strewn all over the grounds, but it said this year that the campers will far outnumber those of previous years. The camping has received a new impetus, due to the fact that four large tents are already stationed there and will remain during the coming assembly. Several young men have turned the city park into a summer resort in the last few weeks and have been spending all of their extra time there in tents. They have all said that they will leave their tents up during the chautauqua and will enjoy the rare treat to be afforded by the program. Many campers are already inquiring about tents and it is the belief of the tent committee that the number of "white tops" will far exceed the number at any previous assembly.

SALVATION ARMY NOTES.

Special services in the tent was well attended yesterday and the interests is fast growing. Only three more nights to hold services in the present locality in the park, and then another site will be selected possibly near Seventh street west of the Big Four railroad.

Tonight the special subject "The Sceptics' Daughter" will be given in song at 8 p. m. Tomorrow night, or Tuesday, Capt. D. Lourie and Cadet Broughton of Comersville will have charge of the service. Come and hear them. All are welcome.

For mixing concrete a spade has been invented with long, oval holes in the blade, the performance allowing the finer cement to flow through and give the face a finer finish.

TRIPLETS WILL BE MAIN ATTRACTION

HELD IN DECATUR COUNTY

Milroy's Three Red Headed Boys
Will be Exhibited at Reunion of Old Settlers.

The fourteenth annual reunion of the old settlers of Decatur and adjoining counties will be held August 23 to 26 in the beautiful grove one and one-quarter miles northeast of Westport, Decatur county. The old settlers day in Decatur county has assumed such great proportions that it is a rival to the county fair. A number of local people are planning to attend as they have in previous years. The red-headed Milroy triplets, which have attracted State-wide attention in the few months that they have lived will probably be the headliner of the numerous attractions which the meeting has to offer. A varied and unique program will be offered including the trying of the speed of horses, automobiles and motorcycles. Each day has a special inducement of some sort. The first day, Tuesday, will be known as "Children's day," when one thousand children will march and carry flags. Wednesday will be "Temperance day," when Mrs. Stanley will deliver a lecture on, "At the Mercy of the State." James E. Watson has been asked to talk at that time, but it is probable that he will be unable to attend. On Thursday, "Soldier's day," Finley Gray mayor of Connersville, Judge George L. Gray of Brookville and Congressman W. O. Barnard of New Castle will talk. The last day will be "Farmer's day" when a special program for the farmers will be given.

LIVED AT MILROY.

Milroy Press: Word was received here Tuesday of the death of Ed C. Mahle at his home in Columbus, O., from typhoid fever on Sunday. He formerly resided here.

A powerful microscope is recommended by the department of agriculture as a kitchen utensil to detect adulterants.

SHE'S A RARE ONE.

Much has been said of late about the meek and lowly hen, of how she is doing all in her power to save the country by laying six eggs at a time and hatching triplets from one egg, but not a word of commendation has been spoken of the unpretentious, but industrious pullet, says the Columbus (Ind.) Republican.

Any sort of pullet is entitled to some consideration, considering that she is a valuable food product, but Fred Neimoeller, member of the clothing firm of Scheidt & Neimoeller, has a pullet that is certainly deserving of special mention, for notwithstanding her extreme youth she is making her presence appreciated, especially by her owner, by laying an egg every other day, and this she has been doing since June 20, yet she never saw the light of day until last January.

SOCIETY NEWS

William Inlow of Manilla has received word from his nephew, Edgar Kaufman, of Cedar Point, Ohio, that the latter had married a young lady of Hamilton, Ohio, Tuesday. Mr. Kaufman is well known at Manilla, having visited at that place on many different occasions. His mother is a resident of Indianapolis. Mr. Kaufman is a young musician of more than ordinary ability and is employed as an organist at Cedar Point. He is also a fine violinist.

* * *

Despite the fact that it has been reported that the wedding of Pleasant Dennison of Hope and Miss Lena Bailey of St. Paul took place last week in Shelbyville, the marriage of the two young people will not take place until next Tuesday, says the Greensburg News. The mistake grew out of an erroneous report sent to the Indianapolis News by the St. Paul correspondent.

Rev. O. A. Cook of Shelbyville, is to be the officiating minister and the service will be spoken in Shelbyville. Immediately following the ceremony, the young couple will leave for Garden City, Kansas, to reside permanently.

Mr. Dennison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Dennison of Hope, who expects to go to Garden City for permanent residence this fall, as they recently purchased a farm there. Miss Bailey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bailey of St. Paul and a very charming young lady.
